I'm thinking of some windows,
 Through which I always peer;
 Beyond them, I see everything,
 And from them flow my tears.
 Each morning when I lift the shades,
 I see a brand new day;
 At night I shut these windows
 Once I'm done with work and play.
 God placed these windows in my head,
 So it will come as no surprise:
 When I open them I see, because,
 These windows are my eyes.

Another one God gave me,
 Is deep inside my soul,
 So I can see invisible things,
 Like love and self-control.
 And if I keep the shade pulled down,
 And shut this window tight,
 My heart grows dim and lonely,
 And I wander in the night.
 Lord, help me keep these windows open,
 So each morning when I rise,
 Your warmth and light will fill my soul,
 As your sunlight fills my eyes.

Is there a God? Is Jesus really alive? If so, why can't we see him?

The power to believe is a gift from God, a gift he will give to anyone who asks. It isn't a sin to ask God hard questions.
But if we do, we should pay attention for answers.

Believing is partly a choice as well. When we make the choice to believe, God honors that choice and helps us with our faith.
