The Apostle Paul wrote a huge portion of the New Testament--the part of the Bible about Jesus and the first Christians. His love for God was the most important thing in his life. He cared deeply for the people he helped to believe in Jesus. He wrote letters to friends and to groups of Christians in many places to help them understand the love of God.

These letter pairs are missing from some of Paul's words:

Can you put them where they belong?

These men caught this woman doing something very wrong. Some of them wanted to put her to death because their law said that people who did such things should die. They asked Jesus what he thought they should do.

John 8
