Jesus said, "It only takes a little faith to do great things. If you have faith the size of a tiny mustard seed you can say to a tree, _____."

Use the code breaker at top and write his words here.

WHEN JESUS SAID THIS ABOUT FAITH, DO YOU THINK HE MEANT . . . (CIRCLE TWO)

1. We should rip trees from the ground.
2. The power of faith is awesome.
3. Whatever we say will come true.
4. Trees are useless except for making boats.
5. With very little faith we can do a lot.

Teachers in Jesus' time (and good teachers in every time) often made a point using exaggeration. An exaggeration is an extreme statement that in itself may not be true, but helps us understand something that is true. We do it in everyday speech: Have you ever really had a ton of homework, or seen anyone eat like a pig, or hit a ball a mile?

After Jesus said what he did about faith, his friends said,

IN C	L P P	R E A	M O L
P	SE	rt	O
F A I	UR	P L P	P
○ M L	t I	P	th
