

Yep, those are some outstanding friends you have there; but I think your best friend is the fellow who healed you. Yes, that's what happened. You can get up now, pick up your stretcher and go home. Look around you. Everyone is amazed. Some are crying and praising God. I'll bet you feel pretty good, too! Did you happen to catch the name of that fellow who healed you?

Draw yourself after Jesus healed you. You can draw the others, Ed for instance, if you want to.

Mark 2:1-12

Okay, so that's you on the stretcher. Get it? You're paralyzed. Maybe it was an accident, maybe you have been this way since birth, but there you are. Your friends carry you around. These are good friends who really love you. Today they are taking you to see someone special. Someone they think can help you. You are all filled with hope. There is hope everywhere.

Find "hope" hidden ten times in this picture.

So here you are, on the floor, looking up at the man you are hoping will help you. Getting here wasn't easy. The house was so crowded with needy people that your friends took you up to the roof, made a hole in it and lowered you down. Like I said, these are good friends. And what does this man do? He tells you that your sins are forgiven. Can he do that? Well, he says, to prove that he can, he'll tell you to get up, take your stretcher and walk home. Walk! You haven't done that since before the accident, or maybe never. What will you do? Can he really heal? Think about it. How do you feel?
